

Dying Happy: The Gift of Choice

Death is a part of life, but that doesn't make it any easier to deal with. When we're faced with the death of a loved one, or even our own impending death, we're often left feeling lost and alone. But it doesn't have to be that way.

In his book Dying Happy: The Gift of Choice, Dr. Rajiv Parti explores the end-of-life choices available to us and how we can make the most of our final days. Dr. Parti is a hospice and palliative care physician who has witnessed firsthand the power of choice when it comes to dying.

In Dying Happy, Dr. Parti shares the stories of several of his patients who made different end-of-life choices. Some chose to die at home, surrounded by loved ones. Others chose to die in a hospice, where they could receive expert care and support. And still others chose to end their lives with medical assistance in dying (MAID).

Dr. Parti doesn't shy away from the difficult questions surrounding end-of-life care. He discusses the pros and cons of each option, and he helps readers to understand the legal and ethical issues involved.

But Dying Happy is not just a book about death. It's also a book about life. Dr. Parti believes that we can learn a lot about living by understanding how to die.

In the end, Dying Happy is a gift to all of us. It's a book that can help us to face our own mortality with courage and grace. It's a book that can help us to make the most of our final days and to die happy.
