In a world that is constantly changing, it can be difficult to know what it means to be a wife. The Bible provides a clear and concise answer to this question in Ephesians 5:22-24:

"Wives, submit to your own husbands, as to the Lord. For the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ is the head of the church, his body, and is himself its Savior. As the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit in everything to their husbands."

This passage teaches that wives are to submit to their husbands in everything. This does not mean that wives are to be subservient to their husbands or that they are to give up their own individuality. Rather, it means that wives are to respect their husbands' leadership and to follow their lead.

There are many reasons why wives should submit to their husbands. First, submission is a sign of respect. When a wife submits to her husband, she is showing him that she values his opinion and that she trusts his judgment. Second, submission is a way of showing love. When a wife submits to her husband, she is putting his needs before her own. Third, submission is a way of honoring God. When a wife submits to her husband, she is obeying the command of God.

Submission is not always easy. There will be times when a wife will disagree with her husband or when she will feel like she is being treated unfairly. However, it is important to remember that submission is a choice. Wives are not forced to submit to their husbands. They choose to do so because they love them and because they want to honor God.

If you are a wife, I encourage you to consider the biblical perspective on submission. It is a challenging but rewarding path. When you submit to your husband, you will not only strengthen your marriage but you will also draw closer to God.

Benefits of Wives' Submission

There are many benefits to wives' submission. Some of these benefits include:

- Stronger marriages: When wives submit to their husbands, they create a stronger foundation for their marriage. Wives who submit to their husbands are more likely to be happy and satisfied in their marriage.

- More fulfilling relationships: When wives submit to their husbands, they create a more fulfilling relationship with their husbands. Wives who submit to their husbands are more likely to feel loved and appreciated by their husbands.
- Closer relationship with God: When wives submit to their husbands, they draw closer to God. Wives who submit to their husbands are more likely to experience God's love and grace in their lives.

How to Submit to Your Husband

If you are a wife, there are many things you can do to submit to your husband. Some of these things include:

- Respect your husband's authority: This does not mean that you have to agree with everything your husband says or does. However, it does mean that you should respect his position as the head of the household.
- Follow your husband's lead: This does not mean that you have to give up your own individuality. However, it does mean that you should be willing to follow your husband's lead in major decisions.
- Support your husband's goals and dreams: This does not mean that you have to give up your own dreams. However, it does mean that you should be willing to support your husband's goals and dreams.
- Be a helpmeet to your husband: This means that you should be willing to help your husband with whatever he needs. Wives are called to be a helpmeet to their husbands, and this means being there for them in every way possible.

Wives' submission to husbands is a biblical command. It is a challenging but rewarding path. When wives submit to their husbands, they not only strengthen their marriage but they also draw closer to God.

If you are a wife, I encourage you to consider the biblical perspective on submission. It is a path that is worth taking.
